

How Orangutans Got Their Fur

by Jenny Dooley & Virginia Dooley

Express Publishing

Which animals
can you see?

In the rainforest of Borneo lived Olly – a baby orangutan. He lived high up in the tall trees with his mother and other apes, monkeys and birds. The rainforest was beautiful, but Olly was very sad. Every morning, he watched the apes jump from tree to tree. “I want to jump like that, too. Why can’t I?”

Where do
orangutans live?

Go to activities
on page 16

ACTIVITIES

for pages 10-11

13 Listen and say.

arrive

dark

asleep

wake up

yawn

stretch

cover

14 Read and fill in the correct word.

wakes up

yawn

cover

arrived

visited

stretches

- 1 We our grandparents last week. They were so happy to see us!
- 2 Ian late on Sundays because he likes sleeping a lot.
- 3 Mary always before she plays basketball.
- 4 We at the cinema before the film started.
- 5 Pat, please your mouth when you

15 Look, listen and tick (✓).

1

a

b

3

a

b

2

a

b

4

a

b

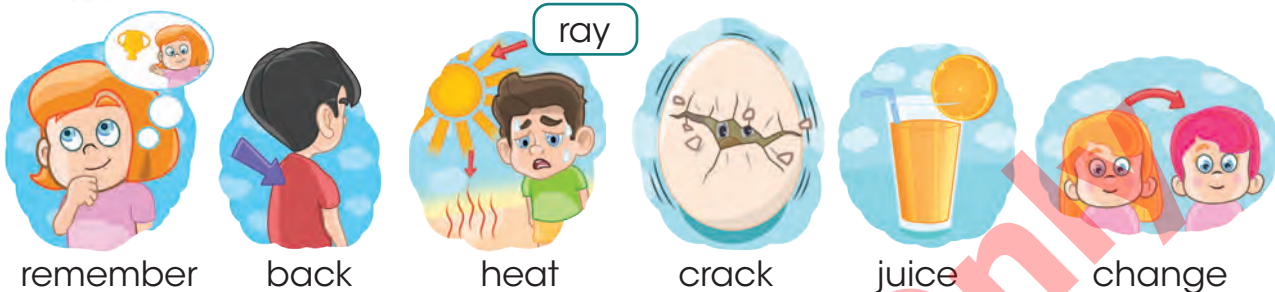

ACTIVITIES

for pages 12-13

16  Listen and say.

remember

back

heat

crack

juice

change

17  Look, read and write yes or no.

1 Daddy is cracking an egg. ☐

2 The girl is drinking juice. ☐

3 The dog is carrying a cat on its back. ☐

4 Mummy can't remember where her hat is. ☐

5 The boy is changing his T-shirt. ☐

6 The heat from the Sun makes you hot. ☐

18  Who said it? Read and match.

King
Omri

The Sun

1 What beautiful oranges! They're perfect for the Sun!

2 Let's have some breakfast and talk.

3 We are different, but we're special, too.

4 I want to hear that story, Mummy!

Olly

Mummy

How Orangutans Got Their Fur

by Jenny Dooley & Virginia Dooley

Olly, the baby orangutan, is sad that he can't jump like the monkeys.
How will his mother teach him that
being different is OK?

LEVEL

Express
DigiBooks

Express Publishing

ISBN 978-1-3992-1052-2

9 781399 210522