MONDAY

All About Me

Here are three things you need to know about me, Journal:

1. People call me Little Red. It's not my real name. But one day my Granny G called me Little Red because of my red hoodie. I wear it everywhere. The name just stuck.
2. I LOVE baking. No, I mean I REALLY love baking.

- ! 3. In related news, I am one hundred percent going to win the Great Storyland Bake-Off this year. !

I was so excited when Granny G gave you to me, Journal. She said I could tell you all my baking secrets and personal secrets. I may write some of my regular secrets in here. But no way am I sharing the really important stuff.

Only Granny G gets to see my recipes. I don't even show them to Mom and Dad. Mom is a dentist and Dad is a fitness coach. They don't love baking like I do. And I would never want my recipes somewhere that sneaky Wolfie might see them.

Oh, I haven't told you about Wolfie, have I? I guess there are a few more things to know about me.

- ✖ 4. I won second place in the Great Storyland Bake-Off last year.
- ✖ 5. That mean old Gingerbread House Witch won first place again. I'm glad she retired. This year, first place is all mine!

- ★ 6. Wolfie won third place last year.

He says he wants to be my friend, but I know he's just trying to get my recipes. Besides, who has time for friends? If I want to win, my life has to be all baking, all the time.

No Wolfie

TUESDAY

Granny G, My #1 Taste Tester

I wish you knew Granny G, Journal.
She's the best. She's a baker, a gardener, and a painter. She's also a roller skater. Back in her day, she was the captain of the Storyland Roller Derby team. They called themselves the Storytime Slashers. She still plays on the senior team, but she always makes time for me.
