I'm Story!

Yep, Story Jobs, that's me. I use my imagination to discover who I want to be.

My parents named me Story for three reasons.

First, my mother is an author of fiction books.

Second, my father said I should remember to make every day have a happy ending.

Lastly, they told me I am the best part of their story.

Still, I get in trouble during school days. Guess I better not get in my own way.

To help me do that, my homeroom teacher is sending me to Mr. Gray's Refocus Room once a week.

Real talk, I have to go because, well, my "talk" is not always "real." I tend to exaggerate. I know it's wrong not to be truthful. I've got to change my ways if I want people to trust me.

If you like exploring, join me and my frenemies, Maury and Nelly, in the Refocus Room.

We will learn to build better habits and practice good behavior. That way we can go after any career we choose.

Come on!

Refocus Room

Chapter 1

AID

Story was smart. However, she did not always make smart choices. She liked to exaggerate. Not being truthful got her into trouble in school.

Story's teacher said exaggerating gets in the way of the facts. So now she has to go to Mr. Gray's Refocus Room once a week. Story was in a grumpy mood.

In the hallway, Story bumped into her frenemies, Maury and Nelly.

“Outta my way! I have to see Mr. Gray,” Story said.

“You move!” Maury shouted. “We’re heading there too.” He was always yelling. Maury jabbed his fists in the air.

Nelly said, “Maury, stop punching the air. If a teacher sees you, I won’t come to your AID.”

“No one will see me. Everyone else is in class,” Maury frowned. “Now we have to spend a boring hour with Mr. Gray.”

“Yep,” Story agreed. “Guess we shouldn’t have gotten in trouble.”

Maury and Nelly nodded as they walked to Mr. Gray's door.

The sign read "Come see Mr. Gray to have an amazing day!"

They liked Mr. Gray but they were not enthused. They sighed.

Story said, "We better go in."

Story turned the knob and went in first. Maury and Nelly trailed behind.

"Hello, you all," Mr. Gray said. "Let's have a chat about behavior."

As usual, they lowered their heads as they went to their seats.

Mr. Gray bellowed, "If you did the crime, we need to spend the time discussing your actions."

COME MEET MR.
GRAY TODAY AND HAVE AN AMAZING DAY!
