

Ivy and Grandma

A STORY ABOUT GRIEF

by Susan Griner illustrated by Román Díaz

Meet Ivy

HOBBIES: combing the beach for sea glass, drawing with chalk on the sidewalk, hanging out with my friends at the park

FAVORITE BOOKS: First Guidebook to Sea Glass, Deep Sea Creatures, and Muffins, Muffins, Muffins

FAVORITE FOODS: muffins and melons

FUTURE GOALS: become a scuba diver

GOALS FOR THIS YEAR

- FIND NEW BEACHES WITH MY MOM
- PERFECT MY BACK STROKE
- READ 100 BOOKS

When Ivy and her grandma arrived at Glass Beach, her grandma said, "We're going on a treasure hunt today!"

An illustration of a grandmother and a young girl, Ivy, on a sandy beach. The grandmother is a large brown bear wearing a purple dress with a pink floral pattern and a white lace collar. Ivy is a smaller brown bear wearing a purple dress with a pink floral pattern, a red plaid skirt, and yellow boots. They are both looking out at the ocean. In the background, there are blue waves, a large rock in the water, and a green island in the distance under a blue sky with white clouds. Two small wooden buckets are on the sand near Ivy. A large, diagonal, semi-transparent watermark reading "For Review Only" is overlaid across the center of the image.

What kind of treasure?

"Sea glass," her grandma said. "It's a gift from the ocean.
Bits of broken glass are tumbled in the waves and sand until the glass becomes smooth and the colors soften."

Where do I start digging?

The illustration shows two cartoon beavers on a sandy beach. The beaver on the right is larger, wearing a purple cardigan over a pink floral shirt, and is gesturing with its right hand. The beaver on the left is smaller, wearing a purple floral shirt. In the background, there is a blue ocean with white waves, a green forested hill, and a rocky island under a blue sky with white clouds. A large, diagonal watermark reading 'For Review Only' is overlaid across the center of the image.

We have to hike
to the treasure.

As they walked, Ivy's grandma said, "There will be blue, green, white, and brown sea glass. You might even find a red piece."

