A Long Way to Fly

Hello! I'm Miles. Two days ago,
I hatched from my egg on this milkweed plant in southern Canada.

I'm a caterpillar now, but soon I'll be a monarch butterfly. I started eating right away. Milkweed is all I eat. I need lots of energy for my metamorphosis. That is how I turn into a butterfly!

I eat and grow for two weeks. I molt four times. I grow new, bigger skin each time. Then I hang upside down! I'll molt once more.

Do you like my new green skin?
It's called a chrysalis. I'll hang here for two more weeks.
