

FRIENDS ACCEPT — YOU —

Megan Borgert-Spaniol

➤ TABLE OF CONTENTS ◀

Friendly Dinner.....	4
Celebrate Differences.....	6
Accept Yourself	8
Strengths and Challenges	10
Be Understanding	12
Agree to Disagree.....	14
See the Best in Others	16
Include Others.....	18
Practice Acceptance.....	20
Glossary.....	22
Read More	23
Internet Sites	23
Index	24
About the Author	24

Words in bold are in the glossary.

Friendly Dinner

You invite your new friend over for dinner. It's taco night! But your friend says she can't have the tacos. Her family does not eat meat.

You want your friend to try the food. But you accept your friend as she is. This means you don't ask her to change. You have tacos with no meat instead!

Celebrate Differences

Think about a friend. How are you and your friend alike? How are you different?

You and your friend might like different sports. Maybe you have different skin colors. These differences are good! They make us who we are.

Accept Yourself

Nobody is good at everything, including you! Accepting others starts with accepting yourself. Maybe you wish you were better at drawing. But it's OK not to be perfect. You have many talents you can be proud of.

