

A Tree Horse

Story by Mandi Rathbone

Illustrations by Sharyn Madder

Clare lived on a farm.

One day, her friend Abby came to stay with her.

Clare and Abby loved horses,
but there were no horses on the farm.

So the girls looked at horse books.
They painted pictures of horses, too.
“I have always wanted
to ride a horse,” said Abby.
“Yes,” said Clare.
“But Mum and Dad won’t let me
have one yet.”

“Let’s go and climb
some trees today,” said Abby.

The girls ran across the grass.

“Look at that big long branch,”
said Clare.

“We can get up on that one.”