

Max and the Clouds

Nigel Croser

Neil Curtis

Min and Mop were eating grass.
Max was looking at the sky.
He was looking at the clouds.
“I can see a bird,” he said.

"I can see a bird too," said Min.

"We can all see a bird," said Mop.

Then the wind blew and the clouds changed.

"I can see a rabbit," said Max.

"I can see a rabbit too," said Min.

"We can all see a rabbit," said Mop.

Then the clouds changed again.
